Local groups work together to restore Manistee recreation and trout habitat

By Terry Wright

The upper reaches of the Manistee River, including about 12 miles of river running through Crawford County, its associated wetlands and tributaries, are ranked among the state's most valuable natural resources. It spawns an abundance of fish and wildlife as well as propagating thousands of species of natural vegetation. The Manistee corridor has largely recovered from the effects of heavy logging a century ago, and today presents an appealing setting for outdoor recreation, especially canoeing, camping, hunting, and fishing. But all is not as well as it seems.

The growing use of the river by the recreational public, and budget cuts in the public agencies responsible for its maintenance, have combined to take their tolls on the entire Manistee watershed. Bank erosion, in places, has overtaken the natural scouring effect on the stream bottom, destroying vital fish feeding and breeding areas. The consequence is the overloading of the streambed with unnatural sediments, especially at road endings, pipeline and trail crossings, and campgrounds.

Undoing the decades-long deterioration of the upper Manistee River system and restoring its lost fishery and recreational potential represent major challenges. To meet those challenges, the Upper Manistee River Restoration Committee (UMRRC), was formed in 1989. The UMRRC is a partnership of thirteen area groups, both public and private, who have pooled their resources to bring the Manistee back to its proper condition. Members of the group include, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, the Michigan Department of Military Affairs, the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, the Otsego Soil Conservation District, the Crawford-Roscommon Soil and Water Conservation District, the Kalkaska Soil and Water Conservation District, the Otsego County Road Commission, the Crawford County Road Commission, the Kalkaska County Road Commission, the Huron Pines Resource Conservation and Development Area Council, the Michigan Council of Trout Unlimited, the Manistee River Association, and the Upper Manistee River Association.

Chairing the group is Joe Kutkuhn, a fisheries biologist and retired Associate Director for Fishery Resources of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in Washington D.C. In a detailed action plan the group set two goals. Goal one is to restore the system potential for a top-ranked trout fishery, supported by self-sustaining stocks. Goal two is to upgrade the public and private use, including maintenance and protection, of streamside lands.

To reach their goals, the cooperative groups first took an inventory of all erosion sites between the Manistee source in Antrim County and the M-66 Bridge in Kalkaska County. That inventory pinpointed 27 problem sites in Crawford County. Each site was ranked as being either a minor, moderate, or severe erosion problem. With a completed, professional inventory, the group set to work on repairs, each partner giving the task the resources that they could.

The most critical site for erosion was the horse trail crossing just south of County Road 612. The UMRRC built solid, long-lasting, erosion stabilization walls. An underground drainage system was installed for surface runoff, and concrete steps were built down the bank and into the water large enough to be used by horse and rider. The cost to complete the project was $45,000.

All but four of the Crawford County sites have been refurbished. The last four are scheduled to be completed by the end of this year.

The majority of the funding for the massive effort has come from federal aid programs administered through the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and the Michigan Department of Military Affairs. Much of the balance has been through in-kind contributions of time and

Citizens question amendment that would add nine new counties to local landfill

By Terry Wright

While citizens questioned the accuracy of waste output predictions at a public hearing on Monday, June 21, landfill owners said regional trash may have to be brought to Crawford County to keep the landfill profitable.

The Crawford County Solid Waste Management Committee, held the hearing to gather comments on the proposed amendment by City Environmental Services (CES), to add nine new counties to the five and 20 year planning period for the CES landfill in Maple Forest Township. The committee consists of members of the Northeast Michigan Council of Governments (NEMCOG), acting as the solid waste management agent for Crawford County. Rick Duell, the director of NEMCOG was the only committee member present. William Coy represented the Crawford County Board of Commissioners.

An audience of about 20 people listened to representatives of CES explain why the amendment is needed.

Steve Balagna, the Vice President of Development of CES parent company City Management Corporation, said that the Crawford County commissioners faced a disastrous situation in the landfill with mounting fines and huge environmental remediation costs, when City Management rescued them by purchasing the landfill. "They turned a liability into an asset, and provided for future services as well," Balagna said. He pointed out that all those costs have been borne by CES and that a plan of remediation is now in the hands of local Michigan Department of Natural Resources officials, open to anyone who asks to see it. He explained that the amendment to the solid waste management plan is necessary if CES is to continue making a profit from the landfill.

City Management attorney Mike Nelson stressed the fact that, "Even if all the counties in the new plan brought all their trash to our landfill, after twenty years it would still not be full."

Balagna added that the original $100,000 originally set aside to finance recycling in Crawford and Otsego Counties is approximately three-fourths gone. "If the amendment passes, recycling will continue at the same cost," he said.

The speakers from the floor included Mark Kniss, the Maple Forest Township Supervisor. He asked the committee to reward the amendment to only allow a five year inclusion of new counties. "In doing this," Kniss said, "if a mistake has been made in allowing these many counties to use the CES landfill, and the life of the landfill is threatened, it would be almost self-correcting." Kniss also asked that the committee cap the amount of trash that each county could send to Crawford County, thus guaranteeing a place in which local refuse can be disposed of for 30, 40 or even 50 years into the future.

Lovells Township Supervisor, Fred Schaibly, read a letter to the committee stating, "There isn't enough evidence to prove to us that there is enough room for the counties already involved in the solid waste plan for a 20 year capacity. Figures given to us are based on the 1980 census. Crawford County alone has grown 29% according to the 1990 census, and most of the surrounding counties have also shown growth." Schaibly also pointed out the difficulty he has encountered in trying to get a straight answer from CES, the MDNR, or local county officials as to the monitoring of wastes going into the landfill. "Do we know what other counties are sending to our landfill?" Schaibly asked. He also agreed that the solid waste management plan should be updated every five years, not just every 20.

Shirley Reniger spoke next as a private citizen. She asked that no additional counties be added to the plan until remediation of known environmental problems is well under way or completed. She also said that since CES has a monopoly on waste disposal, local residents should continue to receive free recycling benefits.

Ralph Crawford of Onaway, representing Waste Management Incorporated, spoke next. He said that within two weeks, if the weather allowed, Presque Isle County would have a new landfill of their own. He offered to talk about that to anyone at the meeting.

The next speaker was Deb Fisher of Citizens for a Safe Environment (CFSE). She read an extensive letter which drew applause from the crowd. The letter made three points: (1) "Numerous studies have documented the failure of any landfill technology, including 'state of the art', to adequately contain leachate—the toxic soup at the bottom of all landfills. The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has made statements to this effect twice." (2) "Human harm has been strongly associated with leakage from hazardous waste sites including landfills." Fisher went on to cite several studies as evidence. (3) "If CES could not accurately predict their business needs to stay economically viable for more than one year, and if they could not accurately predict their ability to provide recycling services for more than six months, how can we rely on their prediction of landfill capacity related to the waste output of 26 counties over the next 20 years? Predicting population growth and waste output from that uncertain population over an unpredictable two decades is like throwing darts in a dark room—inaccurate at best, dangerous at worst."

Judy Werlein, also of CFSA added, "It has already been documented by the DNR that the new cells are leaking." After the last speaker, Duell reminded the crowd that public input will be accepted by the committee until June 29.

Police arrest local stalker under new state law

Deputies from the Crawford County Sheriff Department last week arrested Richard Menafee under the jurisdiction of the state's new "stalking law." The charge stemmed from a complaint that Menafee had been harassing his ex-wife.

Menafee was arraigned on Tuesday in 83rd District Court.

Under the new law, stalking is considered a misdemeanor, unless, after first arraignment, the behavior continues. At that time it becomes a felony.

This arrest marks the first in a campaign by the sheriff department and the Crawford County Prosecutor to apprehend all those who are currently committing the crime of "stalking."

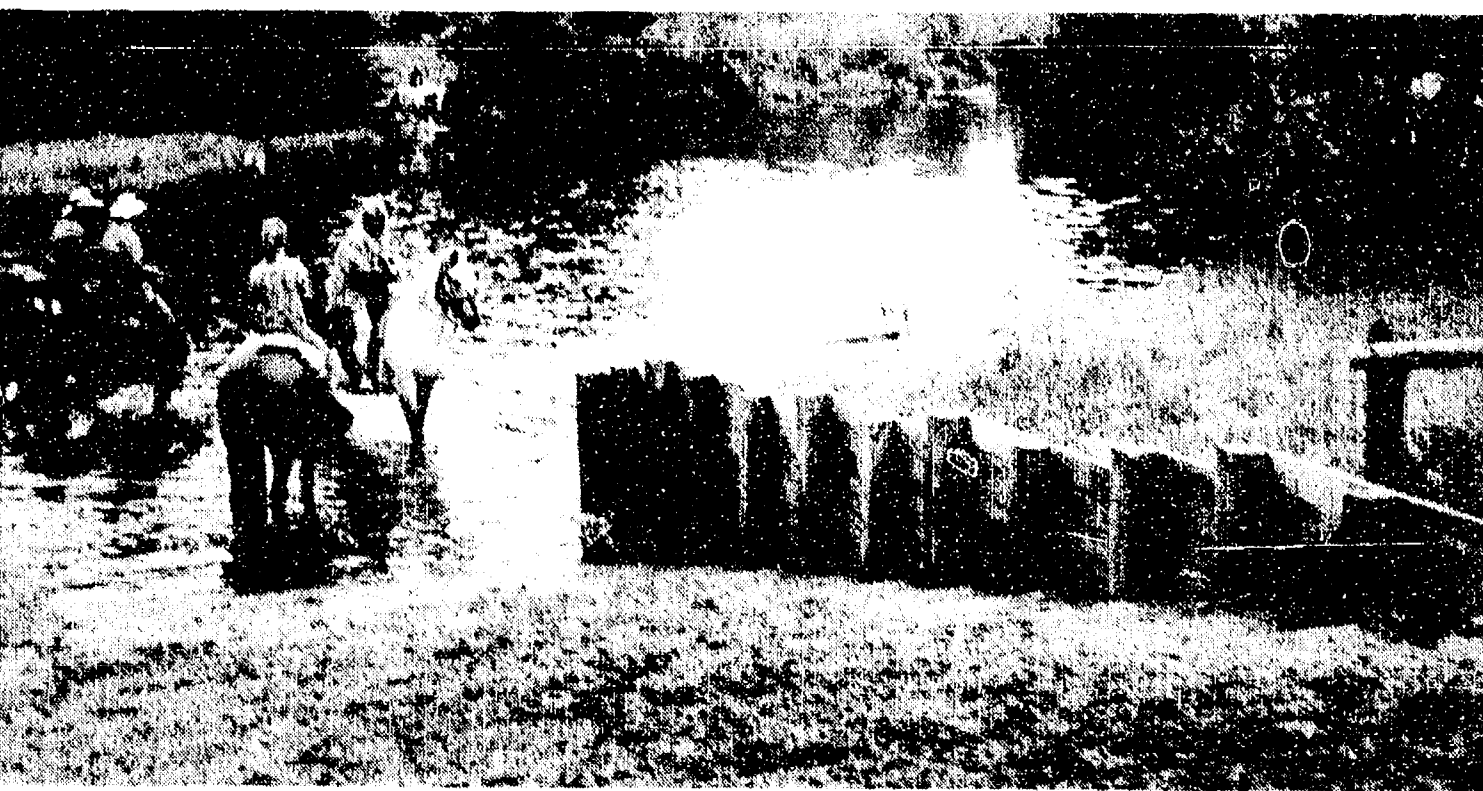

Sheriff Lovely feels that with the recent implementation of the stalking law, it will add a valuable tool to his officers in apprehending and convicting perpetrators of this crime. "Prior to the implementation of this law, officers weren't able to arrest stalkers or those who continually harass others unless another law was broken. Sometimes that time did not come soon enough to avert more serious crimes," he said.

Drowning victim pulled from South Branch

The body of Bernice Helen Schwan, 72, of Inlay City was found floating in the South Branch of the AuSable River on Monday, June 21. At approximately 6:35 a.m. Crawford County Sheriff deputies were dispatched to the Steckert Bridge area of the South Branch where a body had reportedly been seen in the river.

It is believed that Mrs. Schwan had fallen from the dock at her family cottage. Due to the high water and her poor swimming ability, she was unable to reach shore.

The body was transported to Grayling's Mercy Hospital for autopsy. The preliminary cause of death is attributed to drowning but the incident remains under investigation.

Schools cut 2.28 mills off tax bills

The Crawford AuSable Board of Education took action to reduce the school millage by a total of 2.28 mills at its meeting on June 21.

The 2.28 mills reduction is a significant amount which will be reflected on property owners' July tax bills, said Kent Reynolds, CASD superintendent.

In one action, the school board voted to approve a total operating millage of 26.72 mills for the 1993-94 school year. This alone represents a reduction of 1.63 mills (from 28.35 mills) due to the rollback required by the Headlee Amendment to the Michigan Constitution.

The board also voted to set the debt retirement millage at 3.32 mills — a reduction of .65 mills (from 3.97 mills), thanks to the refinancing of the district's existing debt earlier this school year.

While the reduction of 2.28 mills on property owners' tax bills will have a significant effect on taxpayers, the reduction of the debt retirement millage will have a subtle effect on the district's operations, said Reynolds.

Because the surplus in the cash portion of the debt retirement account will be lost, it is imperative that the school district carry a healthy fund equity. Otherwise, it would have to go on the open market if it needed to borrow funds before July taxes are collected.

"A big fund equity is what keeps you from having to borrow," said Reynolds.

Furthermore, the State Aid Act has not been completed by the legislature yet, making it difficult for the CASD to complete planning for the coming year because district revenues are directly related to provisions of the act.

If the State Aid Act is adopted as is, the district may lose up to $400,000 in state assistance. If that happens, the school board may want to consider holding an election to override the Headlee rollback and return the operating millage to its higher level so as not to lose the state monies, said Reynolds.

River House eliminates drop box

River House Shelter will no longer have the donations drop box at Mercy Hospital. From now on, donations of food, clothing and other items will be accepted at the shelter offices during regular office hours (Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.). ## Bike riders frighten seniors using sidewalks on Lawndale

Subject: Bicycle riding in residential area of Senior Citizen's Center at 308 Lawndale.

Bicycle riders: Some polite and careful. Others too fast, reckless, uncaring, smart-alecky.

Senior citizens: Some on walkers, canes, crutches, poor eyesight, with hearing problems, and others that are able to get about quite briskly.

All are exposed to these cyclists in whatever manner they choose to ride. Some come much too close, too fast, then swerve onto the grass, to return to the sidewalk. It is frightening, especially if you are disabled.

Why is this permitted? We pay rent, the lawn is our front yard to enjoy. The sidewalks are our outlets to come and go. We need them to be safe. Now that summer is here and school is out, it is worse, by far.

We have been repeatedly told that it is city property. If so, why can't the city prohibit this problem? Would it be too difficult?

It really is a small area. Why do the "oh so young" have to use it as a short cut? Who will accept responsibility if and when one of us falls and gets hurt, because of the careless ones? It will happen sooner or later, you know.

Avalanche provides news of family and old friends

I am a hometown Grayling girl who has not lived here in nearly twenty years. However, I still subscribe to the Avalanche to keep up on all the news of family and old friends.

I think that the Avalanche has recently been enhanced by the articles written by Terry Wright. His contributions to Grayling, along with Joe Murphy's column, the G.P.A. Milltown Parade, and the Memorial Day Service at the cemetery all contribute to making Grayling the special place that it has always been to me.

LET'S TALK ABOUT IT

By Joe Murphy

Just when the old man had given up hope of even a taste of morel mushrooms this year, a dear and longtime friend came through for me. Pauline (Kimber) Meaker brought the old man enough mushrooms that I could enjoy my favorite snack. A plate of those mushrooms fried in butter with a slice of toast and a cup of good coffee is about as close to heaven as a man can find on earth. Thank you, dear lady, for sharing with me. You have a big chip you can call in from the old man anytime.

Not only that, but my son, Mike, brought his mother and me a couple of nice trout which we both enjoyed very much. Since the old man has given up on fishing, fresh caught fish are a real treat. The wild strawberries will be about the next goodies on the agenda. I wonder who I can con out of a bowlful of them.

People who have never had wild strawberries are lucky they can eat tame berries and call them good. But we who have tasted the wild ones realize just how tasteless the tame ones are. When I was on the farm, I raised quite a few strawberries and I enjoyed getting up and walking through them early in the morning while they were still wet with dew. I liked to pick a few of the choice ones to eat right there in the garden. I had one everbearing strawberry that, though they grew to a much larger size, came about as close to the taste of wild berries as you could get. The old man seems to be busy now with yard sales, gun shows, metal detecting, etc. But it seems good to have things to do after those dull days of winter. When the Avalanche comes out, I like to see that long list of garage sales and though I do not find much at them, I meet some real nice folks and if they are not too busy there's a chance to get time to talk awhile. So even if I don't find a thing to cart home, I enjoy my weekends. I have been getting some very nice letters along with orders for my new book and I look forward to the postman's delivery of the mail. It makes the old man feel real good to know that some folks take time to read my columns. It always seems when I am discouraged and about ready to call it quits, I will receive a nice letter from someone who tells me how much they enjoy my efforts. Their kind words bring new hope and effort on my part as it all seems worthwhile again. My new book is selling pretty well and I hope it will continue to do so. The Christian Help Center can use all the help I can muster for them. The Frederic Alumni Dinner is slated for the 26th of June and I look forward to seeing some of my old friends of school days once more.

Citizens information endangered

Citizens who want to know what's going on in their local governments would do well to keep an eye on a couple of bills which have made their way into legislative maze in Lansing.

Ostensibly the bills seek to save taxpayer money by altering the definition of a newspaper.

One approach is to remove the requirement that a "newspaper" must contain at least 25 percent "news and editorial content."

Another proposed change was to eliminate the requirement that a "newspaper" must be published at least every week; bimonthly would be enough.

How a "newspaper" can be considered a newspaper without containing at least a minimum of news mystifies logic. How "news" can be considered news without being produced in a timely fashion also defies reason.

But these are the positions being pushed by Reps. Diane Byrum of Ingham County and Dale Shugars of Kalamazoo County in the two bills.

THE IDEA BEHIND all this activity is to permit shopping guides to be paid to publish legal notices.

There are all sorts of requirements in Michigan that local governments, schools and other public jurisdictions—and the state too, in some cases—must publish certain information in a "newspaper." Courts also order publication of certain legal documents—mortgage and probate notices, for example.

The idea is to make sure that the public has a chance to be informed about what's going on in their communities with their tax dollars. The Byrum-Shugars bill would permit shopping guides to be paid to print these notices, too.

THE BIG PROBLEM for citizens is that shopping guides are not newspapers. They are organized into a group calling itself "Community Newspapers of Michigan" which is lobbying hard for these two bills. But calling a shopping guide a "community newspaper" doesn't make it one. Much more is required.

Most citizens look in newspapers for information about what's going on in their city council or school board; they may look in shopping guides for garage sales or used cars—but not for information about government.

If legal advertising goes into shopping guides, most citizens will miss seeing it. That's simply not where they look for government information.

Then there's the matter of historical record. Most newspapers are saved in bound volumes and/or microfilm as historical records of the communities in which they are published. Shopping guides are not.

Newspapers go into libraries for posterity; shopping guides do not.

The public record, including public advertising notices, should be maintained for future generations. Anyone who has ever done genealogical or other historical research recognizes the local newspaper as an invaluable source.

IT MAY SEEM TO APPEAR unseemly for a newspaper to fight for continuing the present definition of a "newspaper." Advertising dollars are involved. It may seem an attempt to monopolize the legal advertising market.

One thing the Byrum-Shugars proponents claim is that they only want to give local officials an option; there's some merit in that view. It might even save money; publishing no notices at all would save even more. Money is important, but it's not the crux of this issue. Citizen awareness is.

If all local officials invited public scrutiny of their activities, and would truly seek to place legal notices where they would be studied by the maximum number of citizens at the lowest possible cost, the anti-newspaper case could be stronger.

But some local officials—not all, but some—prefer to operate in the shadows. Some would rather not publish any legal notifications at all, if they could get away with that, and could be expected to try to hide what's going on.

A NEWSPAPER IS the best place for citizens to find out what's happening. It's the best place for public officials to send out the word. It's the best place to preserve community history. It's the best place for legal advertising to appear.

The framers of the Constitution recognized all these truths 200 years ago. They encouraged newspapers of their day as a means of educating the public. Newspapers still do that.

That's why the Constitution guarantees press freedom. That's why newspapers were given special recognition and treatment in postal rates and in other ways—to spread education of the public through newspapers.

To keep their end of the bargain, newspapers send reporters to public meetings, and print long explanatory public budget stories, and explain to voters what's at stake in elections. Shoppers don't do those things. That's why most citizens look in their newspapers for information about government.

Government should make it easier for citizens to find out what's going on in government, not more difficult.

That's really what's at issue in this debate about public notices.

By Whitey Madsen

It's -30- . . . for 3 friends . . .

Damn, I hate writing this . . .

Why don't I accept the fact that we are retired and leave it at that . . .

Possibly, it is the memory I have of the good times that I shared with the three whenever we would meet . . . all three covered my life here in Grayling, when we came here in 1946 following WWII . . .

First, it was Fred Arwood . . . we became friends when he and his wife, Jean and family moved here from Lansing . . . Fred was in the Guard and was electronics supervisor at M.A.T.E.S. where my wife, Thelma worked at the time . . . he served in the Army during WWII . . .

We will never forget his always wide, friendly smile and his greeting . . . "Howdy" . . .

Fred loved golf and played as often as he could . . . I understand he wired a sound system at the country club after he retired . . .

He wasn't feeling too hot, but decided to play a round of golf on Wednesday . . . the following Sunday he asked Toots (his affectionate name for Jean) to take him to Mercy Hospital . . .

It took a little over a week for cancer to ravage his body and afflict the pain that accompanies it . . . he passed away at Munson Hospital in Traverse City . . .

Second, Col. Ed Rutkowski . . . in all senses of the word was a native of Grayling . . . he was five years old when his parents moved here . . .

Ed served in the Air Force during WWII . . . following his discharge, he enlisted in the Michigan Army National Guard as a Private . . .

He rose through the ranks and when he retired was Full Colonel and was Camp Grayling Commander from 1967 to 1976 . . . the longest of any commander at the camp.

Col. Ed's legacy is spread all over the states . . .

During his tenure as Camp Commander, he made sure that any GHS graduate who needed work to be able to go on to college he found a spot for them at the camp during the summer . . .

Our son, Dane, mentioned this when I called to tell him about the Colonel . . . he said one of the summers he worked there he hurt his shoulder, Col. Ed invented a slot so he could still be employed while he was going to Central . . .

Col. Ed also succumbed to the dreaded cancer.

Third, Clyde Anthony, a true native, was born in Fletcher, near the Crawford-Kalkaska County line . . .

Clyde, after serving his time in WWII and being wounded, returned to Grayling and worked for the Road Commission as a construction foreman . . . following his retirement he served as a member of the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund which he was appointed to . . .

Since his retirement he served on the Road Commission Board, and at the time of his death was Chairman of the Board . . .

Short-Short, the fellows told me when we moved here, was his nickname, loved baseball, and the years he played attributed to his success at playing golf . . .

Clyde was lucky . . . if you can call dying lucky . . . at least he did not have to lay in a hospital as cancer took its time destroying his body . . .

Following dinner Saturday night, he took a walk out in the back yard, came in, and collapsed . . .

So, it's -30- for Freddie at 66, Col. Ed, 69, Clyde, 67 . . . much too young to join their maker . . .

Damn . . . I'm going to miss them . . .

DOODLES FROM THE TALL TIMBER

Wendell L. Hoover Park Interpreter, Hartwick Pines State Park

The season for school tours is completed, with a total of 85 groups ranging in number from 25 to over 200 students, teachers and other adults. Now the Interpretive Staff changes its emphasis to the regularly scheduled guided tours.

If you are interested in accompanying us on a tour, phone either 348-7068 or 348-2537 for a week's schedule. We set up and post a schedule of tours, usually from Monday to Monday, 11 a.m. and 1 or 2 p.m. daily, depending upon other demands for our services. If you have not taken a guided tour, this is an open invitation to you.

Only one of the seasonal crew was able to return again this summer, so we have two new people in the office who are working on perfecting their presentations, which is no easy task when the amount of information is considered. By the end of June, Lynn and Tom will have mastered the basic techniques, so bring your family out to take a walk.

We are preparing for Woodshavings and Sawdust Days the third weekend in July, so if you know of anyone who carves wood with hand tools, have them call me at 348-2537. Hope to see you soon.

Parental Rights... Use 'em or lose 'em

Dear Mr. Ross: I'm 23 and married for the second time. When I met my current spouse in '91 I had just divorced and was starting a new beginning. A month prior to our first date I gave up alcohol. With the help of several things, A.A. and the love of my wonderful wife, I've been sober ever since.

The reason I'm writing you through the Wright Way Shopper, is my wife has a daughter from a past relationship. Her (our) daughter started calling me daddy one morning. It was the best day of my life! Her biological father never signed the birth certificate, has no parental rights and never paid any child support. I've been her daddy for almost two years and would not give it up for anything. I've spoken to a lawyer. The cost for an uncontested adoption runs around $500. He is willing to start things for half down. Both myself and my wife work, but expenses are such that saving that much money is tough. If you'd be so kind, to help make our family complete and help us with the down payment, I know that we can pay the rest.

Mr. D. G. ... Monticello, MN

Dear Mr. G.: In view of the fact that Father's Day is here, it seems the perfect time for a celebration, Dad! My $250 is in the mail to consummate on paper, what you already know in your heart.

Dear Mr. Ross: I'm writing on behalf of a non-profit organization called "Friends For Life". We service handicapped children and their families. These children suffer from among other illnesses, Down's Syndrome, autism, cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis, while others are blind, deaf or are burn victims. Some of our assistance is providing education and medical equipment.

In the past, many of these children have fallen through the cracks in obtaining assistance in these

Musicians Dice, Lugviel selected for Youth Arts Festival at WMU

Grayling High School graduates Gretchen Dice and Loren Lugviel performed in the prestigious Michigan Youth Arts Festival, held on the campus of Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo, on May 6-8.

The 31st annual festival is the culmination of a nine-month search for the finest artistic talent in Michigan high schools, involving over 40,000 students. Of these, 700 of the most outstanding are invited to participate, sharing their talents with the public and their peers through performances and exhibitions.

Additionally, each student has the opportunity to attend clinics, workshops and masterclasses in their discipline. Dance, drama, instrumental and vocal music (both classical and jazz), visual arts, film/video and creative writing are included in the festival.

Dice, the daughter of George and Janet Dice of Grayling, was selected for the oboe section of the orchestra.

"She was selected from her state solo/ensemble proficiency III score — a 91 (out of 100)," said Dennis Ormsbee, GHS band director. "It was her third year in a row. That is the most you can be in it."

Lugviel, the son of Carl and Pat

Lugviel of Grayling, was selected for the baritone section of the band for the second year in a row. He received a 93 on proficiency II at the state level of solo/ensemble.

"It is a great honor for Grayling and both students because being in the band or orchestra for two or three years in a row is a very great feat that few people attain," said Ormsbee.

Since 1963, the Michigan Youth Arts festival has provided the state with a showcase for arts education that is unique to the nation. Begun as a talent screening for musicians for Michigan Week by Dr. Joseph Maddy, founder of the Interlochen Center for the Arts, the festival has become a comprehensive arts spectacular.

"This is an extraordinary event," said Robert Ralston, festival chairperson. "It is a distinct honor to be selected to participate because the festival recognizes and encourages young artists while giving special attention to the importance of the arts in the lives of all — young and old alike."

"Michigan leads all states in the nation in showcasing gifted and bright high school artists at the Michigan Youth Arts Festival," said Frank Philip, arts education specialist with the Michigan Department of Education. "Nowhere else does this happen. We are especially proud of all the arts education teachers and administrators who make this unique festival happen."

Redskins start registration for 1993 football season

The Grayling Redskins are now taking registrations for the 1993 fall football season. Applicants must be 10 to 14 years of age by August 1, and in the sixth, seventh or eighth grades.

The Grayling AuSable League has expanded to include the addition of a developmental team this year. This will give more youngsters an opportunity to participate in the program.

The two teams will be competing against other area football leagues. There are eight games planned, including a Super Bowl at the end of the season. The Grayling Redskins placed fourth last year. Gaylord, Atlanta, Tawas and West Branch are new additions to the league.

The team is funded by donations and fundraisers. Registration fees are used for insurance costs. The team will be collecting Glen's slips. There will also be a raffle and cotton candy booth during the July Canoe Marathon.

The coaching staff and board of directors have been busy preparing for the upcoming season. Recently, the coaching staff attended a Sport's Medicine seminar conducted by Tom Wausniak, education coordinator for North Flight. The seminar covered a range of topics including first aid, conditioning and training.

The following area organizations and merchants have helped support the team and make their activities possible: the Avalanche, Mercy Hospital, North Flight, Subway, Glen's Market, Buccilli's, Rochette's, Grayling Athletic Boosters, and the Crawford AuSable School District.

Grayling Big League team opens with 7-2 win over Gaylord

The Grayling Big League baseball team, sponsored by the new Burger King Restaurant, officially opened the summer season with a 7-2 win over Gaylord on Wednesday, June 16. The 16-18 year old team, led by the pitching of Eric LaForest and Mike Kirmo, combined a sound defensive game with timely hitting and 13 stolen bases for the victory.

LaForest was the starting pitcher, giving up just two hits and two runs, both unearned, with two strikeouts in three innings. Kirmo relieved in the fourth inning with the score tied 2-2 and shut down the Gaylord team with one hit and ten strikeouts in the final four innings.

"Both LaForest and Kirmo pitched extremely well" said Coach Mike Garner. "Eric combined excellent control with some good breaking balls and Mike was on target with good control and great fast balls."

LaForest led the offensive attack going two for three with a double, two runs scored, two RBIs and three stolen bases. Mark Brannon was one for two with a double, one run scores, two RBIs and two stolen bases, Scott Garner contributed with a two for three day with one run scored while Loren Lugviel and Paul Hartman each contributed one hit for the offensive. Players adding stolen bases were Kirmo, Travis Eddy, and Travis Weaver with two each, Caleb Casey, Hartman and Garner with one each.

Coach Garner called this game "A total team effort. Scott Garner called a good game catching and our outfield held hitters to singles with hustle and solid throws. I know Grayling will be very competitive in the big league district. We have six kids who played varsity ball for the Grayling district champions. Every player is experienced and we all expect to do well this summer." Coach Garner added, "I would really like to thank the Burger

King folks for sponsoring our kids this year."

The big league team plays 16 league games this year with away games on Wednesdays and Sunday double headers at the Grayling High School baseball field. "I know our kids would love to play in front of a big home town crowd," Coach Garner said "so we, as a team, invite all of Grayling to come out and watch some good aggressive baseball."

Fox Run league races tighten as half ends

D Day came early in June for all four flight leaders in the Fox Run men's league as the front runners fell from commanding leads. First flight pace setters Marshall and Abernathy lost to Larry Sumerix and Dick Spenny. Their lead in the A flight was cut in half as Bob Jansen and Jeff Nester fired a team gross score of 76 to climb into second place. Second flighters Mike Fortino and Rodger Phelps saw their lead trimmed to 1.5 points as Bill Denemy and Rodger Wagner downed them in a head to head match.

Dave Dougherty and Bob Murphy took their first loss of the year and came back to the pack as the teams of Rood and Englehard and King-Lewis drew into a second place tie, seven points behind the leaders. Flight four now offers a tight race as Watson-Kehoe now lead by only three points over Deslover-Patchin. Dr. Oppy and Jim Rutledge are new to third place trailing only by 3.5.

Les Job reigns as super sub of the week. The 14 handicapper birdied the seventeenth in a net 41 effort. Dave Plum netted 34 in a losing effort teamed with St. Helen's Bob Miller.

The Fox Run ladies are also looking at new leaders in two of their three flights. Mary Alice McKindles and Sue Murphy have taken the lead in flight one, thanks in part to a flight best net 34 carded by Murphy. Vicki Borchers and Carolyn Jones cling to a slim two point lead in second flight. Linda Mott and Joyce Routley are making a strong bid to jump out front as they trail only by two. Rebecca Izak and Karen Sprague have passed the field and lead the third flight by four full points. Camilla Dewitt and Barb Gaylor command the second spot. Linda Mott's 45 was low gross for the league. Bernie Cowan posted a net 32 to beat all players with Camilla Dewitt signing a net 33 card.

Dan Bundy not only knows how to maintain a golf course, he knows how to play one. Bundy earns super sub of the week honors by touring Fox Run's back nine in net 33 as he helped Scott Fick to a 16-point victory.

Week eight of the league schedule brings position night and matches that determine first half champions. The closest race of all is in the fourth flight where a scant 5.5 points separate four teams. Gillespie and Kreidler lead the pack with 86.5, but Watson and Kehoe trail by only one. Doug Allen and Mike Nowak are five back while Jim Rutledge and Doc Oppy trail by 5.5 in a tight race to the finish.

Flight three shows Dave Dougherty and Bob Murphy with a 9.5 point bulge over the challengers from two teams, Englehard and Rood as well as Gaylor-Lantzsch. Second flight leaders Mike Fortino and Rodger Phelps enjoy a six point lead over Bill Denemy and Rodger Wagner. The two teams will go head to head to determine a spot in the year end playoffs.

First flight pace setters Terry Abernathy and Rick Marshall have made it strictly a no contest stanza as they have pulled away to a huge 10.5 point lead. The race in that flight seems to be for second and a chance for a wild card berth at year's end.

Rare good weather saw scores tumble as 18 players posted net scores of 35 or less and nine golfers carded actual scores of 40 or under. Jeff Nester and Bob Jansen led all teams with a combined gross score of 75. Their card included four birdies, two of them by opponent Bob Miller who fired a 38 on his own ball. Don Nester blistered the front nine with a net score of 30 and, combined with partner Jerry Dewitt's red hot 34, they rolled to an 18 to three victory.

League directors are busy putting together the mid year tournament which is played under a two-man Scotch ball format.

SENIOR LEAGUE BASEBALL

Legion and Georgia-Pacific started the fourth week of senior league baseball with a well-played 7-4 game Tuesday, June 15, ending in favor of Legion.

Jason Hatfield pitched seven innings for Legion for the win. Justin Eddy led the offense for Legion with two hits. Hatfield, Nick Schriener, Tim Anderson, and Seth Madsen each added one hit. Eddy led the defense with his play at shortstop.

Jason Hall had two hits to lead Georgia-Pacific. Adam Baynham, Steve McEvers, Martin Kroell, Travis Hopp, Chip Waite, and Matt Guzman all had one hit. Several good defensive plays were turned in by Georgia-Pacific players. Nate Weaver made a nice catch in left field. Kroell had two good assists at second, catcher Ben Haskel threw out a baserunner at third with Waite putting the tag on, and Hall made a diving catch on a ground ball off the pitching mound and threw out the runner. Hall pitched five innings and Ed Baynham pitched two innings.

On Wednesday, June 16, Kiwanis beat Legion 2-4. Shane Hinkle and Jason Thompson led Kiwanis with three hits each. Steve Bugyi and Josh Schoen added two hits each. Tony Dobry, Andy Gilman, and Steve Anderson each added one hit.

Hinkle pitched all five innings for the win. Dobry made a nice catch on a soft liner over his head.

Hatfield, Schriener, and Anderson all had hits for Legion. Hartman started the game and Eddy relieved. Madsen led the defense with a catch in left field of a low line drive.

On Thursday, June 17, Kiwanis defeated Georgia-Pacific 11-5. Bugyi led Kiwanis with two hits. Hinkle, Thompson, and Gilman each added one hit. Andy Perrin pitched seven innings for the win. Dobry led the defense by starting a 3-6-3 double play in the seventh inning.

Adam Baynham led Georgia-Pacific with three hits. Haskel had two hits, and McEvers, Hall, Waite, and Kroell had one each. Waite pitched five innings and Ed Baynham pitched one inning. Waite struck out 12 batters.

Games scheduled for the fifth week of action:

Tuesday, June 22 - Legion vs Kiwanis. Wednesday, June 23 - Georgia-Pacific vs Legion. Thursday, June 24 - Kiwanis vs Georgia-Pacific.

Two make-up games will end the regular season next week. On Monday, June 28, Legion will play Kiwanis, and on Wednesday, June 30, Legion vs Georgia-Pacific.

Simulated crash disaster tests skill of local emergency units under fire

By Terry Wright

Despite pouring rain, a simulated disaster exercise took place on Saturday, June 19, at the Grayling Army Airfield, as city and county law enforcement agencies, city and township fire departments, North Flight ambulance services, the American Red Cross, and other county level emergency services participated with the National Guard response teams.

The disaster simulated a helicopter fire stemming from a refueling accident. Airfield rescue and fire teams were first responders, with other agencies called in to assist as needed. A heavy blanket of smoke hindered their efforts, making the exercise seem as true-to-life as possible.

The goal of the exercise was to permit emergency teams to coordinate their efforts, and to study the problems that arise before a real crisis occurs.

After the initial fire exercise by military and civilian fire fighters, the eight "victims" of the accident were evaluated on the spot for the severity of their injuries. They were then taken to Mercy Hospital in Grayling for treatment.

An emergency disaster crew of about thirty-five medical professionals performed further evaluation and began emergency treatment. Two of the victims were determined to be dead-on-arrival at Mercy. The others had injuries ranging from two cases of mild heat exhaustion, to third-degree burns on a majority of the bodies of the helicopter crew.

After all data from the exercise has been gathered and collated, groups involved will meet to evaluate the effectiveness of the response.

Crawford County Central Dispatch Director Larry Akers said, "Everybody thought it seemed to go real well."

GPA chooses Women of the Year

Two charter members of the Grayling Promotional Association were named GPA Women of the Year for 1992-93: Joyce Bourrie and Mary Jane Knibbs.

Both Bourrie and Knibbs have been long-standing members of GPA. They have accepted many committee assignments over the years, and have consistently gotten the job done. Their hard work was recognized by the GPA during an awards presentation recently.

Their many projects have included the Historical Society Museum room decorating and furnishing, involvement with the Festival Parade, active roles in the community decorating projects, providing food service for GPA events, assisting with the Celebration of Lights Home Decorating Contest, as well as the variety of painting, cleaning and other organized activities of the GPA.

"Women like Joyce and Mary Jane are the backbone of our organization," said Linda Albce, president of GPA. "Hard working and enthusiastic believers like them are what make Grayling a better place to live and work."

Adult education graduates record number of students

A record number of students were honored at the Crawford AuSable Community Education commencement exercises on May 27 featuring Dr. Dorothy Franke, president of Kirtland Community College, as the guest speaker.

"This was probably the largest number of adult graduates with the addition of the EDGE (Educational Design for Gainful Employment) program," said R.J. Hannan, community education director. "Sixty-one people received diplomas or certificates for completing the GED (general equivalency diploma) or EDGE."

Those receiving high school diplomas included Laura Bojanowski, Christine Lynn Case, Renee Jean Cross, Cecilia Cinciala, Simone Paulette DeVriendt, Jeanne Elizabeth Hayes, Bonnie Lou Karwoski Piper and Lorie M. Sajdak.

Seventy-nine-year-old Cinciala was the oldest person to receive a diploma, said Hannan. Both she and Bojanowski were enrolled in the senior citizen program.

The following people received GED certificates: Rodney Adkison, Gayle Ashton, Greg Ashton, Ron Austin, Deborah Bonenfant, Ilesa Bordeaux, Laura Brown, Christopher Callahan, Maria Costigan, Rachel Cousineau, Barbara DeCrane, Mae Engel, Starr Featherston, Laura Gajewski, Karl Golnick, Pamela Halfyard, Jeanne Hayes, Angel Hoag, Pamela Holzman, Tamara Ingersoll, Cora Jones, James McCredie, Betty Madsen, William Merithew, Richard Myers, Rebecca Oberg, Jamie Patterson, Leesa Patterson, Maria Phillips, James Robideau, John Schreiber and Pam Wilson.

Engel and Madsen were students in the senior citizen program, said Hannan.

EDGE recipients were Theresa DeMoines, Reda Francisco, Mary Hebel, Stella Johnson, Charmaine Kirkpatrick, Teresa Kozik, Ray McIntyre, Jeannie Moon, Tammy Myers, Irene Perry, Jessie Riness, Trina Root, Carolyn Thayer and Danny Wilson.

Students in the EDGE program follow a course of study that includes academic and vocational training related to the chosen field of work. To graduate, students must have obtained a full-time job.

Five students in the EDGE program earned their GED certificates also: DeMoines, Francisco, Hebel, McIntyre and Perry.

The community education program is operated at five sites throughout Crawford County. The Adult Learning Center at Hanson Hills, which offers morning, afternoon and evening classes; Grayling High School, evening classes; the Grayling Senior Citizens' Center, all day on Thursdays; the Lovells Cheerful Givers' Club, all day on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays; and the county jail, eight hours on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

More than 250 students were in the community education program this year, said Hannan.

Fly-tying demonstration featured at library

Katie Southard will be demonstrating fly-tying Thursday, June 24, at 11 a.m. at the Crawford County Library as part of the summer reading programs, Make A Splash! READ and Ice Cream and Me.

Katie is a resident of Grayling and in the sixth grade. Her dad runs The Fly Factory and Katie said she "thought it was neat" to tie flies and started in the 3rd grade. Each fly can take from three to eight minutes to tie. Katie's favorite fly is the Patriot Fly which is red, white and blue and looks like the American flag. Katie's words of encouragement include "never fail and keep trying" or is that tying?

Katie Southard will also display some of her many flies and answer questions about fly-tying at her demonstration.

Lovells Township Library has added a computer. Kate Gregg, the Lovells' librarian, has entered the names of library users and is currently working on a list of books.

The Lovells Library is offering a story hour on Mondays at 12 noon with Ben Duby.

COMMISSION ON AGING

By Jan Farley

We hope that you fathers, out there, had a great Father's Day. I remember, when I was a young girl, that I used to send my mother a "Father's Daycard," just because without her he wouldn't have been a father! I also reversed the whole thing on Mother's Day!

The Merry Makers, from Mio, entertained at our Father's Day dinner last week and put on the cutest show. We had advertised them as "20 Girls 20" but a few of them couldn't come and we had only 12! Everyone enjoyed their performance and we hope they will come again.

We have a collection box, located in the lobby, for you to bring your old glasses and hearing aids. The Lions Club recycle them for people who need help in getting their glasses, as well as hearing aids.

I would like to inform some of you, that don't already know, about our Respite Program. We have qualified people to come into your home to relieve you of care-giving duties on a regular or part-time basis. This would enable you to go shopping, get your hair done, etc. or just relax and have some free time to yourself. Give us a call at 348-7123 and we can arrange the time with you.

The Senior Citizen dining room is, "Where the elite meet 't eat!" For a donation of $1.50 per meal for seniors and a cost of $2.50 for those under 60, you can get the best deal in town on a delicious meal. Reservations are needed (348-7123), but if you find yourself in town and want to stop in, please feel free to enjoy our meals at any time; we can always feed you.

Congregate meals are served at 12 noon and five o'clock, Monday through Thursday and at noon on Fridays. Menus are subject to change and are listed as Lunch/Dinner:

June 23-Fish/Chicken;
June 24-BBQ Beef Sand/Stuffed Peppers;

VERSE OR WORSE

By Joe Murphy

Masters Are Bulldozers

Some men are like rough uncut stone
Their attributes hidden by a rough exterior
But a master's eye can see below the surface
To that hidden beauty of the interior

Like the skilled diamond cutter of the jewelry trade
Can cut a rough diamond to reveal the beauty within
It takes a master to judge another man
To see the real man hidden beneath the skin

No one can make a silk purse from a pig's ear
But some can turn a pig's ear into a thing of beauty
Those who have such skill should practice it
And regard it as his Christian duty

For such attributes are a gift from God
Who blessed them with a special skill
Such as a gifted painter who refuses to paint
Would be going against God's will

If one regards life and its complex problems as a challenge
To determine the true worth of a man
Who could just throw up their hands and turn away
Without doing the very best he can

Doing the very best with the skills you have
Whether it's painting a picture or building a wall
Man might be surprised to see what he can create
If he gives his efforts his all

The man who builds a cabin or a castle
And strives to do the very best he can
Can create a thing of rare beauty
For it is done with a master's hand

New Age Bibles #4

G.A. Riplinger's book entitled, New Age Bible Versions, (An Exhaustive Documentation Exposing The Message, Men and Manuscripts Moving Mankind To The Antichrist's One World Religion), proves how the names for God are being altered in modern Bibles leading up to Satan worship. Historically, Isaiah 14 and Ezekiel 28 have been viewed as the only Bible proof of the fall of Satan. Only in Isaiah 14:12-15 is the name "Lucifer" used to identify Satan by name, and foretell of his fall into hell. When modern Bibles remove the name "Lucifer" from Isaiah 14:12, they remove from divine revelation the historical connection between "Lucifer" and the devil.

Replacing "Lucifer" with "Morning Star" as the NIV does, places a name for Jesus Christ in the place of Satan's fall. In Revelation 22:16, 2:28 and II Peter 1:19 Jesus Christ is identified as the "morning star." The underlying Hebrew does not require such a translation in Isaiah 14:12, but classical mythology by New Age Luciferian

H.P. Blavatsky does. Manly P. Hall in The Secret Teachings of All Ages states, "The pentagram is used extensively in black magic... it signifies the fall of the Morning Star."

Theologians have historical foretold of this modern perversion. H.D.M. Spence in (1913) The Pulpit Commentary: Isaiah forewarned: The title daystar is truly Christ's but will be confiscated by the antichrist of whom Babylon is a type and mystical Babylon is a forerunner. And Satan will assume it, who is the spirit that energizes the heathen world power Babylon, that now energizes the apostate church and shall at last energize the secular antichrist... and his champion the false prophet."

Robert Jamieson wrote before the modern Bible versions, "Daystar: a title truly belonging to Christ and hereafter to be assumed by antichrist." By quoting from occult literature, Riplinger exposes Satan's master plan for deception: "Step one—The Denial of the Existence of Satan... Step two—The Assertion that Lucifer and the Devil are Separate and Distinct Entities

... Step three—The Declaration that Lucifer is a Good Angel and is the Christ Himself... Step four—Lucifer's True Identity as Satan is Revealed using the Anagram, a Transposition of Letters, To Obscure It... Step five—The Bare Facts are Revealed; The Rhetoric is Gone. It is Satan Himself Behind All of the Cosmetic Semantics." We are not ignorant of his devices. (2 Cor. 2:11). Beware, David Spangler, contributing editor of New Age Journal asserts: "Lucifer... is an angel of God's love... the angel of man's inner evolution... [He] prepares man in all ways for the experience of Christhood. Christ is the same force as Lucifer."

Area group starting state memorial, research center

For the past two years, a small group of Kalkaska County residents have been planning for a memorial and research center to celebrate Michigan and its citizens.

This year, a local group is formally becoming the Michigan Heritage & Research Foundation, a non-profit organization. Board members are in the beginning stages of acquiring property to erect a building to house memorabilia of those who have had an impact on the Great Lakes State.

At first, emphasis will be on honoring 73 Michigan soldiers from the Vietnam Conflict who are missing in action and over 425 law enforcement officers who died in the state in the line of duty, explained Ron Kea, chairperson for the Michigan Heritage & Research Foundation Board of Directors. Each of those being remembered will be brought to life for the visitor with personal photographs, badges, uniforms, keepsakes, and tools of their trade.

The foundation's goal is to celebrate

Michigan legacy from the Native Americans, who originally inhabited the state, to today's citizens, so they will never be forgotten, he continued.

Kea announced part of the foundation's plans is to construct an educational, cultural and research center. The founders hope to develop a working relationship with school districts, colleges, universities and governmental agencies to enhance the education of young and old alike.

Research projects will be sought so the state's history of contributions to mankind in the sciences and arts may continue in Kalkaska County.

Board members include Vice Chair Louise W. Walter, Jr., Treasurer David C. Frederick, Secretary Denise Hanson, and board members Wanda L. Aardema, Nelson J. Cannon, Sharon L. Coppock, Mona L. Miller, and Douglas R. Murphy. Acting as legal advisor to the foundation is M. Glenn Grossman.

Currently board members are distributing information on the foundation and beginning a drive for funding for the building. Kea said they will be speaking to individuals and organizations to spread the word about the project.

"We feel this foundation will not only benefit this area as a business, but the children and grandchildren of those being honored here," observed Hanson. "We hope to speak to all the families of the MIAs and likewise as many of the law enforcement officers' families as is possible."

Anyone wanting more information on the foundation may call 258-6810 or 369-2736 or write to PO Box 915, Kalkaska, MI 49646.

Church Directory

Many of us have heard this familiar adage concerning horseshoes and certain explosive devices. In certain situations, almost really doesn't count.

Neither does almost count when we speak of our relationship with God. This relationship needs to be personal, trusting, and fulfilling... not almost but total.

Yes, we have a much better chance at winning at "the game of life" when we solidly connect with the Source of all life's blessings.

As we worship this Sabbath, may we not be "Almost Persuaded," as was the soul in that sacred hymn, but may we be totally persuaded to entwine our lives with the will of our Heavenly Father.

Notice

The Crawford County Planning Commission will hold a Public Hearing, Wednesday, July 7, 1993 at 7 p.m. in the basement of the County Building, 200 W. Michigan Avenue, Grayling, MI. The Planning Commission proposes to make two revisions to the CRAWFORD COUNTY ZONING ORDINANCE #90-1, as follows:

Amend Section 19.11 by adding a new subparagraph B. as follows:
"B. A recorded plat with deed restrictions or specifically designed for the purpose of limiting the plat to only mobile homes located in the RD-E, RD-F or AR Zoning Districts may have the County Zoning Administrator of this Ordinance issue a zoning permit for the location of a mobile home upon any lot located in these plats provided that each lot shall have at least 12,000 square feet and that at least 65% of each setback requirement can be met when locating a mobile home upon a lot.

If adjacent lots are in the same ownership and any one or combination of the above requirements cannot be met, such adjoining lots shall be combined into one lot under one ownership in order to meet the above requirements.

Mobile homes located on lots in these plats are intended to permit those mobile homes which meet the minimum size requirements of a Federal Housing Administration and the Michigan Construction Code mobile home designated as a fourteen (14) foot wide (W) by seventy (70) feet long (L) mobile home. Smaller size mobile homes shall not be permitted. The above 14'W X 70'L mobile homes to be located on lots in these plats are to be permitted in RD-E, RD-F and AR Zoning Districts on the basis of the following dimensional exceptions required in these Districts:

1. A reduction of the 960 square foot minimum floor area requirement by no more than five percent (5%) or 48 square feet which means a minimum floor area of 912 square feet of actual living space contained within the exterior perimeter of the mobile home, exclusive of the tongue, exterior tanks and other exterior attachments.

2. A reduction of the width and the ground floor area requirements as specified in Section 20.42 of this Ordinance may be reduced by no more than thirty percent (30%), e.g. the 24 foot width by no more than 6 feet and the 24 foot by 24 foot ground floor area shall be no less than 16.8 feet by 16.8 feet and the 20 foot by 20 foot ground floor area shall be no less than 14 feet by 14 feet."

AND

AMEND Section 26.02 to read as follows:
The Zoning Board of Appeals shall consist of five (5) members. One member of the Board of Appeals shall be a member of the County Planning and Zoning Commission, to be appointed by the County Board of Commissioners, for the terms of his office; the second, third, fourth and fifth member shall be selected and appointed by the County Board — et cetera. Written comments, relating to these amendments, will be received by the County Zoning Administrator, 200 W. Michigan, Grayling, MI 49738, prior to the hearing date.

4-H rabbit club members win ribbons at shows

The Rabbits and Whiskers 4-H Club show season began with the Michigan State 4-H Rabbit Show on March 6, on the campus of M.S.U. Cavies (guinea pigs), a new project area for the club, were exhibited for the first time by Cassandra Maples and Natalie Kent. Both members received 1st place ribbons for their entries.

Since the club has expanded from seven members in 1992 to 15 members in 1993, several new exhibitors entered rabbit shows for the first time.

Erin McCarver entered her first rabbit show, sponsored by the Clare County Heartland Rabbit Club on May 15. Her American fuzzy lop earned two ribbons. Natalie Kent brought home a rosette for cavy showmanship. She was the first member of the club to enter this event. Both her cavies were entered, with the teddy cavy awarded a best of breed rosette and the Abyssinian cavy earning a best opposite rosette.

Derek Gregorich and Katie Slavik entered their first rabbit show, was sponsored by the Happy Hoppers of Oscoda County, on June 5. Derek's Netherland dwarf earned a 6th place ribbon and Katie's rex was awarded a 1st place ribbon.

A rabbit showmanship contest was a segment of the show. Showmanship is a series of steps to evaluate the health of a rabbit. An oral quiz is administered by a judge to determine each contestant's knowledge of rabbit husbandry. Club leader Tamara Galvani (adult division) and Natalie Kent (intermediate division) both obtained 1st place rosettes for showmanship.
